

Carine den Boer

Carine den Boer has been working as a general practitioner in health center Kersenboogerd in Hoorn for over 25 years. She is a researcher at Amsterdam UMC and will soon receive her PhD doctorate for her dissertation on GPs on the role of central sensitization in relation to persistent physical symptoms, APH - Quality of Care (VUmc).

She is general practitioner GGZ, coordinator of the GGZ executive training and chair of PsyHAG, the national expert group of general practitioners GGZ.