DELFT, THE NETHERLANDS

Abstract submission is open for the CONCREEP12 conference 2024

Abstract deadline: 31 October 2023

Issue 2.1, May 2023

Organized by

Main topics

CONCREEP12 will be the 12th conference in a series (which started in 1958) dealing with creep, shrinkage and durability of concrete and concrete structures. The conference will offer an opportunity to debate the latest discoveries in mechanics and physics of creep. The conference aims to bring together physicists, mechanicians and engineers performing experimental work and computational modelling over multiple scales, from structures to the materials or even down to the atomistic scale. New challenges emerging in the field of time-dependent concrete behavior will also be discussed.

We are very happy to tell you that the scientific committee has been assembled. On the following page you will find the list of members.

The ConCreep conference will take place this year in the beautiful historic city of Delft, the Netherlands in the Old Glue factory. This year, the city of Delft is dedicated to Johannes Vermeer, the world-famous painter of "the girl with the pearl earring."

- Mechanics and physics of creep
- Experimental work
- Computational modelling
- Structures, materials, atomistic scale
- New cements and binders
- Recycled and waste components
- Additive manufacturing
- Early age creep
- Rheology

Did you know that:

- ⇒ The first CONCREEP conference was already back in 1958 in Munich.
- ⇒ The acronym CONCREEP was used for the first time in 1993.
- ⇒ IA-CONCREEP was established under the leadership of the founding presidents Prof Bazant and Prof Wittmann during CONCREEP-6 in 2001.
- ⇒ CONCREEP-11 was an online conference due to the Covid-pandemic. In this conference the successful and interesting debates were introduced, which will come back at CONCREEP-12.
- ⇒ On the website CONCREEP.ORG there are links to a creep-database with valuable experimental data.
- ⇒ The website also has links to proceedings of previous conferences.
