

Dear Global One Health practitioners,

For the upcoming workshop at the Paradigm shifts for Global One Health symposium, we kindly invite you to enrich our collaborative network by contributing to our interactive networking map.

You can access the map through this link: Padlet

Even if you are not attending this specific workshop, your contribution to the map is greatly appreciated as it allows participants to connect with professionals from diverse disciplines across the globe. By populating the map with your expertise and insights, you'll not only expand your own network but also foster interdisciplinary collaboration essential for addressing complex global health challenges. You can provide an attachment of your liking, for example a paper or video, that describes your work.

We encourage you to engage with fellow practitioners, exchange ideas, and forge meaningful connections that transcend geographical boundaries.

Thank you for your participation in advancing the cause of One Health.

Kind regards,

Global One Health Workshop Organizing Team
