

Bart Staal

Dr. Bart Staal is a professor of Musculoskeletal Rehabilitation at the HAN University of Applied Sciences and a senior researcher at IQ healthcare of the Radboud University Medical Centre, both located in Nijmegen, the Netherlands. He has a background in physiotherapy and was further trained in human movement science and epidemiology. His research themes include: musculoskeletal disorders in general, low back pain, upper extremity disorders, guideline development, sports injuries, physiotherapy and implementation research.

Dr. Bart Staal: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-0083-6380>