3. How to get there?

From The Hague Central Station:

TU Delft Campus is walking distance from Den Haag Centraal train station (5-10 min). Trains from Amsterdam, Rotterdam, Utrecht are arriving every 15 minutes at Den Haag Centraal. Please note Den Haag HS is a different station/connection - take a train to Den Haag Centraal. The image below shows the walking route (link Google Maps).

By car:

It is possible to get to the venue by car. It is easiest to set your GPS at Parkeergarage Turfmarkt, Schedeldoekshaven 204, Den Haag. The parking garage is located below the university building and is only 10 minutes from the Utrechtse Baan. Due to morning traffic we advise to take public transport. Costs for parking are €25 for a full day or €2,75 per hour. The garage is open 24/7. For Google Maps directions see link.

From Schiphol Airport:

If you are flying in and arriving at Schiphol Airport, we advise getting by train due to high traffic early morning. Parking at the university is limited and costs €25 per day. Taxis will charge over €100 for a single ride.

The train from Schiphol to The Hague is approximately 45 minutes from Schiphol, departing every 15 minutes. Take a train to Den Haag Centraal (not to Den Haag HS, different connection). Please take a train defined as intercity, a “sprinter” will stop at every station taking twice the time (>1 hour). Train platforms at Schiphol can be found in the main entrance hall of the airport (one floor below). It is required to buy a ticket (only single) at the ticket machines of the NS (Dutch rail company) with a blue sign. Ticket machines can be found throughout the main hall. Tickets can be bought for first or second class. In the train, first class can be recognised by red seats - second class by the blue seats. Some compartments are assigned as silence areas (indicated at the windows).
