

Rob Smeets

Professor dr. Rob J.E.M. Smeets is a physiatrist and researcher specialized in the physical as well as cognitive behavioral treatments of chronic musculoskeletal pain. He develops, studies and implements new diagnostic/evaluative tools and treatments for these patients. He also is involved in transferring the model of rehabilitation to new fields, like primary care and prehabilitation. He combines his clinical work at Centre for Integral Rehabilitation (CIR) with his professorship in Rehabilitation medicine at Maastricht University.

<https://cris.maastrichtuniversity.nl/en/persons/rob-smeets>