

Arthur Galapagon

Arthur is currently an early stage researcher and a Ph.D. student at the University Medical Center Groningen. His work focuses on synthetic CT generation using MR images for adaptive proton therapy under the MSCA-funded Real-Time Adaptive Particle Therapy of Cancer (MSCA-RAPTOR) project.